Critical Decision-Making for Co-ops

Moving through important decisions in a group setting can be a challenging process. Explore opportunities to approach problems with considerations for emotion, logic, history and consensus. Take the heat out of argument by cutting through to what matters to members and what generates the best outcome for all involved. You will be able to put these skills into practice immediately!

This workshop covers the following:

- navigating the decision making process
- methods of problem-solving that work
- group dynamics in democratic decision-making
- best practices for problem-solving
